

HNU Logan Scholarship Information for HNU Transfer Students

Frequently Asked Questions

Who is eligible for Logan Scholarship consideration?

Students who attended HNU during the 2022-2023 academic year, did not complete their declared program of study, and are enrolled at a California institution.

Make sure you do not have an outstanding HNU Student Account Balance. Students with an outstanding account balance are not eligible for additional Logan scholarship support.

Students must have had at HNU and must maintain a cumulative 3.0 GPA for Logan eligibility.

What is the scholarship amount?

For Undergraduate students: the amount of the scholarship is $250 per unit, per term, through the completion of your degree.

For Graduate students: the amount of the scholarship is between $1,000 and $10,000 and will be determined by the length of time remaining to complete your degree.

What do I need to do?

Email the following information to StudentTransfer@hnu.edu

1. Current class schedule showing number of units enrolled
2. Your Student ID number at your current institution
3. Transcript showing current cumulative GPA (3.0 minimum)
4. Estimated degree completion date
5. Financial aid award letter/package for the current academic year

How will I know if I've been awarded a scholarship?

We will send an email notification to all scholarship recipients indicating their eligibility and the amount of scholarship resources sent to your new institution for application to your student account for the current term.

Who should I contact if I have questions?

Please email StudentTransfer@hnu.edu for additional information or questions specific to your situation.
